

Drills + Skills + Scrimmages

By Eric Zengota
e-Ticker News

CLAREMONT, NH— For young soccer players who wanted a week of intense instruction, Claremont Parks & Recreation Department held its annual Challenger Sports British Soccer Camp.

“Play — practice — play” is the principle at the heart of the camp.

And that’s how the two instructors shaped both the individual skills performance evaluation and team play. Michael Hickman, who comes from England, and Guilherme Mello, from Brazil, began each morning session with warm-ups, leading to lessons in ball control, drills on passing and kicking, and goalkeeper technique. Fast-paced scrimmages took up the better part of the afternoon sessions.

Teams chose which country they’d represent. They not only wore gear reflecting that nation’s colors, but also learned facts about their “host” on which they were quizzed to earn points toward MVP status. (Quiz for England players: Is Big Ben the clock, the tower or the bell?)

Players also earned MVP points by applying the lessons learned on the field, such as getting goals, passing the ball and communicating with teammates. Displaying good sportsmanship, such as helping friends, also gained them points. Players could also outright nominate someone as MVP based on his or her embodying the best of soccer.

Above all, the players had fun while working to improve their skills. Along the way, they made friends and memories alike.

Robie, Fellows, Blood Stay Hot June 28 at Claremont Races

By Gary Dutton

CLAREMONT, NH—Nobody collected the Superman Bounty Friday, June 28, at Claremont Motorsports Park, as Croydon Comet Aaron Fellows again dominated the R.E. Hinkley Late Model Sportsman feature to stay a perfect seven-for-seven this season.

Fellows wasn’t the only repeat winner Friday at the Thrasher Road speedplant. Pepsi Sportsman Modified points leader Brian Robie held off Dana Smith to score his fifth victory of the summer, Six-Shooter Jeremy Blood earned his seventh victory lap, and Newport’s Jim Carley topped the Pure Stocks for the second time.

Fellows, at 40 already an 11-time Motorsports Park champion, entered Friday’s LMS main event with a bulls eye on his back and a bounty on his head. A $500 bonus has been offered to the first driver to beat him on-track this summer, but that perk went uncollected Friday.

After two attempts to complete the opening lap, Ben Poland was the point man as green-flag racing finally prevailed. By lap four, Fellows was already up to second but far behind the speedy Poland. By lap ten, he'd closed to within five lengths and the next time around he was knocking at the door.

Rocketing low out of turn four, he beat Poland to the stripe on lap 13 and then gave up big leads three times as subsequent cautions regrouped the field but still took the checkers six lengths ahead to score win number seven. Poland and two-time defending champ Ricky Bly put on a great show for second and, with Bly coming home third, Ryan Bell and Tyler Lescord rounded out the top five.

Firing from outside on the front row, Modsmen Brian Robie looked to have the deck stacked in his favor in his quest for five wins in a row. Dana Smith, though, had other plans.

Robie jumped all over the opening lead, bringing Dylan Bodreau with him, with Smith powering into third a lap later. By lap seven, Smith was up for second and coming fast. As the tenth go-round went in the books, he was knocking.

The only stoppage of the 40-lapper happened on lap 18, as a stuck throttle sent Bodreau – running strong in third at the time – hurtling into the turn three wall. While the third-generation pilot's car was heavily damaged, Bodreau escaped the crash without injury.

Back under green, Robie and Smith were side-by-side. Smith, from the high groove, led by inches as lap 19 was completed, a foot on lap 20, and then two feet on circuits 21 and 22. But the next time around, it was Robie by a wheel.

With Robie adding to his points lead with his fifth win in a row, Smith was a strong second, and open-wheel rookie Kyle Welch came home third, earning his third top-three trophy in as many outings. Mike Smith, solid all night, claimed the four-spot, and Kenny Thompson was fifth.

Kyle Templeton led the first eight go-rounds of the Pure Stock feature, then giving way to Jim Carley, who sped off to his second victory of the summer. Templeton was strong all night to earn the runner-up hardware and, with it, move back atop the points parade. Rich Streeter claimed the three-spot.

In the Six-Shooter 15-lapper, Paul Colburn led lap one, with Jeremy Blood then taking over and darting off to his seventh win in eight outings. Colburn finished second, and Eric Lanou was third.

In support events, Granite State Legends ace Shaun Buffington won both his heat and feature races, leading Thomas Gray and Jack Walker under the checkers, while Baltimore, VT youngster Camdyn Curtis topped the Claremont Karting Series 25-lapper ahead of Mason Prouty and Braden Morrie.

Next Friday, July 5, Claremont Motorsports Park will present a big night of oval track racing, culminated by a huge aerial fireworks display. It all starts with an on-track meet and greet session from 6-7 p.m., followed by five divisions of weekly racing series action and the third go-round of the 2019 Red Neck Enduro series.

JUNE 28 FEATURE FINISHES:

Big Inning Bowls Over 'Cats In Series Split

TRENTON, NJ— The New Hampshire Fisher Cats (Blue Jays) lost 7-5 to the Trenton Thunder (Yankees) Sunday afternoon at ARM & HAMMER Park to split the four-game weekend set with their Eastern Division foe.

A six-run third proved too difficult for the 'Cats to overcome. Trenton scored their runs on five hits, a walk, catcher's interference and a hit batter, though the big blow was Kyle Holder's three-run home run.

New Hampshire returns to Delta Dental Stadium on July 4 to play the Sea Dogs after playing the R-Phils Monday night.

Runners Tackle Multiple Terrains in Moody Park

Story and photos by Eric Zengota
e-Ticker News

CLAREMONT, NH—Pre-race drizzle and threatening clouds didn't deter the 67 dedicated runners who took part in Saturday's All Out Trail Run in Claremont's Moody Park.

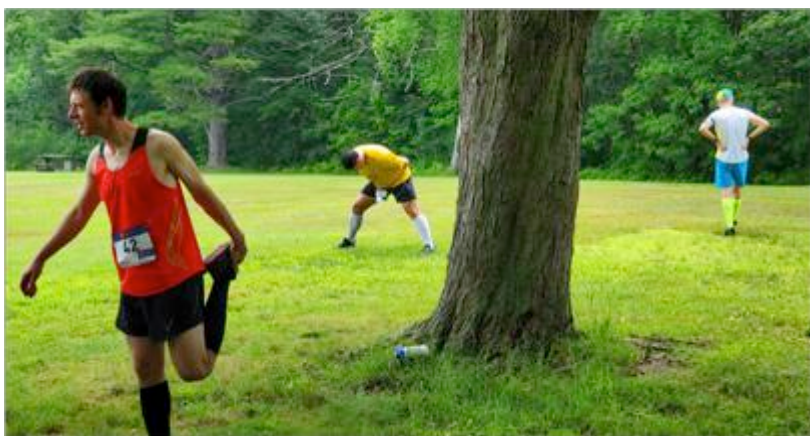

Claremont Parks & Recreation Department presented the event, which is one of the races in the Western NH Trail Running Series. All proceeds benefited the department.

This run has been growing steadily every year. Runners from the Upper Valley competed with participants from as far away as Massachusetts and Connecticut. Eleven were age 19 and under; nine were 60 and older.

The challenging 4.7-mile course — which began and ended in the picnic area at the top of the Moody Park road — included a narrow, winding trail opening up to a logging road, wet areas, open trails, and the steep drop down Gravity Cavity with the equally steep climb out of it. The last mile was a long gradual uphill back to the finish line.

Overall winners got Hannaford swag bags. Winners in each age category literally brought home the bacon, courtesy of products from North Country Smokehouse.

As for good timing: That drizzle picked up again only when the race was over and everyone was driving home.

Inspiration

Rainy Summer Days

By Priscilla Hull

When I was a little girl, we loved a rainy summer day. Having three sisters, we had lots of dolls, but we also had blocks, Lincoln Logs and a beautiful doll house! Our mother was an artist, so we had all kinds of art supplies. Our father was a tinker (actually he was an engineer, but he fixed, built and made everything, including the doll house) so we had scrap wood, nails hammers and all sorts of things to build with. In short we had everything you'd ever need to amuse yourself except tv, electronic games, cell phones and organized sports. Yet I was never bored, never without things to do.

We'd go up in the attic. It was a little musty, warm and we'd hear the rain beating on the roof. There were nails protruding through the rough timbers which held the framework together and the shingles on the roof. There we'd build the most elaborate, fanciful cities out of the blocks. We'd make pipe cleaner people or we'd use acorns to populate the cities. The city would last a few days and then we'd rebuild it in a better, more beautiful way.

I have no idea how many dolls we had, but we had a lot and there were beds, dressers, chairs and tables. The dolls' homes were more dormitories because beds would be lined against the walls. The dolls went to school, church, shopping and everything.

We created games to play, there was a closet of old clothes to use for dress up. Our attic was a place for fun and comfort. We drew and made maps and wrote stories. There was a sense of peace that came with the rain drumming on the roof so when the play wore thin, we could sit with a book, or a pillow and blanket and read or take a nap! The only rule was that it had to be neat and clothing and pillows put away.

My kids had a barn with similar things, only Barbie dolls, Matchbox cars, Legos and such in place of our toys. They too built cities, made up activities for their dolls and took naps or read!

What do kids do today? Are they encouraged to fill in otherwise empty hours with their own plans and dreams? Do they have the opportunity to create their own cities and doll homes and races? We need to provide kids with the tools of creativity. We need to encourage them to use their hands to make things. The things they create will last a lifetime in their minds, allowing them to create things as they grow older and preventing boredom for their lives.

Ah, the joy of a rainy summer day when we can gather our little chicks around us and read a story, build a city, use our imagination.

*3 His divine power has given us everything we need for a godly life through our knowledge of him who called us by his own glory and goodness.
2 Peter 1:3*

What to do if you face a stress interview

Ask your own questions

One of the most common traits of a stress interview is the hiring manager asking a lot of questions in rapid succession. You can counteract that effort by posing questions of your own, seeking to clarify what the interviewer is asking. This may help put them on the defensive themselves and will certainly give you a little more time to think of a good response.

Answer with stories

If you're generally quick on your feet, it's a good idea to take a while with your answers, tying them into past work experience. The Balance noted. This will not only slow down the pace of the interview, but also help present you as being more at-ease with the process. However, if you go this route, try to make sure your stories relate to the question at hand in some way, and have a general point to them.

Be open and honest

If, for instance, you find the questions are coming a bit too fast and furious, or are about something you don't really want to discuss (such as the particular circumstances around leaving a job), you can just say so.

Feel free to walk away

If this interview style is a complete surprise and it's making you truly uncomfortable, you don't have to sit there and endure it for an hour or more. Monster advised. You can just thank the interviewer for their time and leave.

Age level 16 and up. Grow your confidence and style by learning techniques to overcome difficulties on the canvas. All levels of practice are encouraged to attend, as well as bringing a reference photo or idea to personalize your own painting.

Tuesday, July 2nd, 6 - 8:30 PM

$55 (includes supplies)

On Jamie Townsend: Influenced by the rich and fearless colors of his youth in the 1970's, Townsend's palette is balanced with pastels that came into his work after attending the Ringling College of Art + Design in Florida. Drawing from his life experience it was merging with Eastern Philosophy that gave Jamie the confidence to develop his own style. He began researching Abstract Expressionists and painting large scale pieces. He embraces the modern street art movement and finds himself doing many murals as canvases.

Soon he was traveling to Europe and discovering the culture and places that fostered this style. He found painting in Provence to be his favorite where the light is so muted and easy to see furthering his sense of color.

When Townsend is not traveling and painting, he enjoys being inspired by his children and the natural landscape and farmland of Vermont and its hardworking people. You can often find him building tea houses and doing sculpture out in the forests he has loved since his youth.

Join the Boy Scouts

CLAREMONT, NH—If you have a young man going into 6th grade and is 11 years old that you think needs an advantage in life, then have them consider becoming a Boy Scout.
Boy Scouts learn valuable skills in leadership, team building and self-reliance. Boy Scouts that earn the rank of Eagle have a high likelihood of becoming successful in life and stay active in their communities. When the school starts, Troop 38 of Claremont, NH, meets every Thursday 6:30-8:00 p.m. at St. Mary's church gymnasium. Join us for a good time and new adventures. Contact Alex Herzog, Scoutmaster of Troop 38, at claremontscout@gmail.com for more info or come and join us at one of our upcoming meetings.

Brownsville Independence Day Celebrations July 3rd and 4th

BROWNSVILLE, VT—The Brownsville Independence Day Committee has more new surprises for our community this year. Just announced ... there will be four contests on July 4th:

First contest up is “The Great American Pie Baker’s Contest”. Brownsville Butcher & Pantry will be accepting pie entries between 8 & 10 am on July 4th. Judging starts at 11 a.m. and the winner will be announced at the conclusion of the parade. The winner will receive a $100 gift certificate redeemable at Brownsville Butcher & Pantry. There is no entry fee to participate.

Next, the Independence Day Celebration Committee will be giving away free ice cream to youth 14 years and under who can recite the Pledge of Allegiance. At the end of the parade, at approximately 1:30, children may come to the announcer’s station to earn their ice cream.

The Top of the World Dairy 4-H Club of Spring Brook Farm in Reading will be selling tickets for their “Cow Plop Bingo” at the festivities on both the 3rd & the 4th. The winner will take home $250. The fate-determining heifer will arrive at Albert Bridge School at approximately 12:30 and we should know who the winner is sometime after the parade. Tickets are $5 each and purchasers don’t have to be present to win.

The fourth contest is not new this year. There will be parade-participant prizes given out for the most patriotic, the most humorous and the most on-theme. The three winners will receive $100 each!

On July 3rd, folks will enjoy great food from the famous “Moonlighters”, The Lazy Cow’s ice cream truck, the Brownsville Butcher & Pantry’s “Fried Chicken Shack” and a Beer Garden featuring Harpoon’s draft beers.

Cheryl the Clown will be with us as well as the Firehouse Dixie Land Band. The fireworks extravaganza will be expanded with a distinctive “Opening Barrage Tribute to the 100th Anniversary of the End of World War I” thanks to the VFW.

The 3rd of July festivities this year will be up at the new Ascutney Outdoors Center so watch for new parking & viewing arrangements.

Please note, BBQ’s are not permitted and dogs are discouraged.

On July 4th, start your day with the famous pancake breakfast at the Brownsville Community Church from 7:30 until 10:00.

Starting at 9:00 & running until about 3:00, there will be vendors in the Town Hall, games, “Cow Plop Bingo” & more at Albert Bridge School, a book sale at the library and food offerings scattered around town.

The “Moonlighters” will offer up their fare from 11 am until 2 pm at Town Hall.

Brownsville Butcher & Pantry will feature a pig roast with sides as well as the Harpoon Beer Tent from 11 am until 1 pm in their parking lot.

And finally, at 1 pm sharp, attendees will enjoy Brownsville’s famous great BIG small town parade.

Also, tee shirts featuring this year’s theme logo can be ordered during the 3rd & 4th festivities.

A big thank you to our 2019 Sponsors: Holiday Inn/Mount Ascutney Resort, Prudent Living, Brownsville Butcher & Pantry, Mascoma Bank, Mt. Ascutney Hospital, Seth Warren Real Estate, Dark Horse Realty, DLX Excavation, Doolittle’s Print Serve, 4 Generations, Kurtzhalz Excavation, Parris Hill Farm Alpacos, Windsor Wine & Spirits, Leland Company & Tami’s Head Lines.

This year’s theme is “Stepping Up and Pitching In”. We are celebrating area volunteers that make possible the many events and organizations that we enjoy and depend upon!

Special gratitude goes out to Ascutney Outdoors for working with the IDC’s 3rd Committee and to all IDC volunteers and the volunteers from The Climb Fitness Center. Please visit us on our Facebook and GoFundMe pages at <https://www.facebook.com/IndependenceDayBrownsville/> & <https://www.gofundme.com/july-3rd-4th-celebration>.

Donations can be made payable to the Brownsville IDC and sent to Brownsville IDC, PO Box 37, Brownsville, Vermont 05037

Claremont Senior Center, Inc.

It so nice to see the sunshine, sunglasses, sunscreen, sunhats and sandals. Please, take some time to enjoy any of the nice weather. Wow! July already! Where did the first half of the year go. We, at the Center, are already busy making plans for the seniors to enjoy this Fall. In the meantime, enjoy all the programs we are offering this Summer.

The first of our Summer concerts will be Friday, July 5th. We will be hosting the Firehouse 6 Dixieland Band, sponsored by Crown Point and Martha Maki (Edward Jones). Start the evening with supper at 5:30PM. Then listen to great music from 6:30PM-8PM.

The next concert will be held on Saturday, July 27th. The East Bay Jazz Band sponsored by Valley Regional Hospital and Country Realty will entertain us. Mark your Calendars with both events. You won't want to miss either... or the food. These concerts are open to the Public.

The Pampered Chef Hands On Party given on Sunday was delicious. Although the group was small, we delighted in using the latest products to help Lori make Chicken Cacciatore. Talk about scrumptious. Lori Preston did an excellent presentation of all the new kitchen helpers. If you would like to contribute to this fundraiser, please check the catalog at the reception desk. Lori can hold the orders for a few days. Thank you Lori and all the attended.

On July 21st, we will be hosting the "Christmas in July" Tupperware Party. Toni Chase will be our presenter. More on this later. We look forward to having you join us. Open to the Public.

The 8th Annual Claremont Senior Center Car Show will happen on Sunday, August 25th – 9AM-2PM; 33 trophies will be awarded at 2PM. Cars classes include cars from antique to newer and represent over 100 years in automobile history. Our kitchen staff will be on hand to present a variety of eats along with popcorn and ice cream. Door prizes, DJ, 50/50, t-shirts, and some surprises will round out the venue. Mark your calendar and join us for this fantastic fundraiser.

Fundraisers are so important to our Center. We are a non-profit that receives no outside help from the city or government. Membership, fundraisers and donations help to keep the Center open to provide services and meals to our Center. We try to maintain a variety of activities and events to help seniors socialize with new and old friends. Thank you to those who attend the fundraisers to aid us in building upkeep and its programs.

Lunch: Tuesday, July 2nd. -Bakes Beans, Hot Dogs, Bean Salad and Cookies. Served promptly at 11:45. Open to the public.

Foot Clinics-July 3rd and July 10th.

Quick Takes: Bridge -every Thursday-1PM, Bingo-every Wednesday -1PM. All Paper Games.

One month FREE memberships still available.

NOTE: THE CENTER WILL BE CLOSED THURSDAY, JULY 4TH, ENJOY YOUR INDEPENDENCE DAY DOING WHAT MAKES YOU FEEL HAPPY!

Next week, look for a big announcement. Until then, please enjoy any sun we have.

Remember, lively conversation and laughter are always welcome and encouraged at the Center.
