SHS Football Advances to Final Four of D III Playoffs Cards Defeat Cougars, 20-8

The Stevens Cardinals football team traveled to Litchfield on Saturday to take on the Campbell Cougars in the Quarterfinal round of the NHIAA Division III Playoffs. When it was all over the Cardinals enjoyed the trip home after knocking off the #3 seeded Cougars 20-8, to advance to the Final Four of the D III playoffs for the fourth consecutive year. It was also the fourth year in a row that the Cardinals and Cougars have met in the playoffs.

Both defenses came to play and the game was a physical and hard hitting affair with neither team denting the scoreboard in the first quarter. Stevens would get on the board first after stuffing the Cougars on a 4th down play at the Campbell 43 yard line. Stevens used the running of Keaghan McAllister and Matt Jones to drive down the field with McAllister scoring the touchdown on a 1 yard run. Clayton Wadsworth booted the extra point through the uprights to make it 7-0. That would be the only score of the half.

Stevens would add to their lead late in the third quarter after another big 4th down stop, again at the Cougar 43 yard line. McAllister would cap the drive with his second touchdown of the game from 2 yards out. Wadsworth was perfect with the extra point and it was 14-0 headed to the final quarter. Campbell would finally get on the board on a Conor Sweeney to Carter Vedrani touchdown pass and the two would connect for the two point conversion to make it 14-8.

After an Owen Taylor interception at the Cardinal 13 yard line, Stevens would need just 5 plays to cover the 87 yards with McAllister scoring his 3rd touchdown of the game on a 6 yard run. The try for the two point conversion was no good but Stevens was up 20-8 with just under 9 minutes remaining. Campbell would put together one last drive deep into Cardinal territory but Lucas Mudge would end the threat with a great diving interception at the Stevens 6 yard line with 4:59 remaining in the contest. The Cardinals would get a big first down and run the clock all the way down to 11 seconds before having to punt the ball away. The punt return ran out the clock and the 6th seeded Cardinals had the upset victory and secured a trip to the Final Four where they will take on the #2 seeded Trinity Pioneers who defeated the Newport Tigers 35-0 yesterday, and will host Stevens at their new facility this coming Saturday at 1PM.

McAllister topped the century mark, rushing for 101 yards on his 27 carries and 3 touchdowns. McAllister also had 13 tackles, and a pair of sacks. Lucas Mudge rushed 4 times for 60 yards and had a pair of receptions for another 37 yards to go with his big interception. Quentin Bicknell led the defensive effort from his middle linebacker position. Despite playing most of the game with an injured finger, he still managed to record 11 tackles as the Cardinals held the Cougars offense to 173 total yards, and just 55 yards on the ground.

Veterans Day

By Priscilla Hull

Today is Veterans' Day, a national holiday to remember and honor those who have spent time in active duty serving our country. Today we honor all who have served in all wars and in other situations. Veterans' Day originated in 1926 with the Congress of the United States requesting President Calvin Coolidge issue a proclamation so naming November 11 as a day to honor veterans who have served. Memorial Day, in May, honors veterans who have died in service to the country. The distinction is, to me, important. This allows us to recognize all who have served while they are still alive. The reason for the day? In 1918 the formal end of World War I took place at 11 AM on the 11th day of the 11th month with an armistice with Germany. (I once officiated at a wedding at that time on that day a century later!). The day was known as Armistice Day until 1954 when it was renamed Veterans Day.

An interesting editorial note is that while many of us put an apostrophe either before or after the "s", the Department of Veterans Affairs declared that there is no apostrophe because the day does not belong to the veterans, but is to honor them! Thus, from this time forward I will omit it.

As we take time to thank, honor and remember all veterans, let us remember the debt that we owe them. While the day originated to honor our veterans, it is also a time to thank our veterans. I think particularly today of those in the National Guard, who suddenly found themselves in a foreign land where the climate, customs, food and lifestyle are so different from ours. They found themselves suddenly cut off from family and friends, with only the men and women they serve with as their companions. True, others also who are a part of the regular services have found themselves in the same situation, but they did not leave jobs and homes suddenly to be thrust in the midst of battle. I think also of those who come back, in both the National Guard and the regular troops to find lives changed, babies grown into children; children grown into adults; grandparents, parents gone from their lives. Sometimes other loved ones also gone. It becomes a time to start over. The pain of separation lingers and at times may become unbearable. New jobs, new lives and always the pain of remembrance. The remembrance of things to unthinkable to speak about.

What we owe these men and women is a gratitude that extends beyond human cognition. What we owe these men and women is more that can be bought with silver and gold. We owe these men and women, honesty, respect, love, grace, kindness; the list goes on and on. In the short form, we owe them our liberty, our freedom.

"Let freedom ring" is commonly repeated today and every day. Do we really know what we are saying? "Let freedom ring" throughout our land and in every land where people are oppressed and hungry; without housing or adequate clothing; without hope. As often as I officiate at a burial service for a veteran, I will always be deeply touched with the flag ceremony that takes place. The honor, respect and appreciation for those who have served under that flag is well remembered and respected.

Today, thank a veteran for their service. Thank them and honor them with respect and love.

The Lord gives strength to His people; the Lord blesses His people with peace.
Psalm 29:11

We told you it was coming!! Sure enough. A huge gobble, gobble turkey was spotted on Maple Ave. Guess it was as inevitable as the falling leaves and the snow in New England. We've yet to find a way to keep those leaves in the trees. Someone suggested we glue them up. Mmmm. But the cold weather lures us into the cozy chairs with a good book and maybe covered with that afghan you made. You could clean that closet you have been wanting to do. Ok. That statement was all wrong! But you could try that new recipe.

Special Notice: If you are walking in or near the woods, please remember to wear red or orange. The hunting season has started. We do not want to lose any of our seniors.

Speaking of home cooked meals, let's start with our upcoming Turkey Dinner., Sat. Nov. 16th—5PM-7PM. Nothing from the box here, just home cooked goodness. Intro to Laser Cutting CLAREMONT, NH—The Claremont Makerspace's laser cutter/engraver is an incredibly capable tool which can be used for making high precision cuts and engravings on a wide variety of materials. In this three hour class, we'll walk through all the steps from idea to pressing the "go" button on the laser. After learning the basics, each student will create a simple design and cut it on the laser.

Although advanced design and computer skills aren't required to take this course, in order to attend the optional follow-up certification session (to get approved to use the CMS's laser cutter/engraver on your own) you will need to be comfortable operating and navigating the Windows-based computer.

More technically inclined students may bring a laptop and a USB jump drive to class. You may choose to install Inkscape or a free trial of Adobe Illustrator or CorelDraw (the laser cutter workstation has a CorelDraw license) before you come to class to get familiar with the software and start on a vector design project. Participants will leave this class with a small demo project. Supplies will be included in the cost of ticket.

Registration closes Nov. 16.
