Two local golfing families decided to raise some funds for the Dody's Kids golf program at the Claremont Country Club. Dody's Kids, started by Dody Belski, is a program for kids to learn the game of golf. Members of the McNeil family and the Tewksbury family meet once a week to play golf at the CCC. This week they decided to have a small "throwback" tournament to raise some funds. All the players wore golf attire from the late 1800s and early 1900s. Knickers, knee high socks, sweaters and period headgear were the order of the day. They collected period hickory shaft clubs and golf bags and hit the links. The group collected about $200 for Dody's Kids and had a fun round of golf. Dressed in the period attire, they showed why golf is called "the gentleman's game" (Bill Binder photos).

One on One: Countryside Chat with Bernadette O'Leary & KMOC 89.5 FM Texoma

Radio Station 89.5 KMOC Texoma, located in Wichita Falls, TX, plays Christian music that isn't your grandma's Christian music. It rocks! From Newsboys to Audio Adrenaline, they play all the greats in Christian Music to lift your spirit, remind you of your worth, and let you know you are loved.

Keith Sanderson, the station manager of KMOC Radio, sat down to visit with Countryside Chat about life, the radio station, and music in general. Keith entered the radio industry in 1977, before he became a Christian. In High School, a teacher told him that his voice was perfect for working on the radio. He didn't pay much attention at that time, but after working a job digging ditches in 103 degree heat for a while, he decided it sounded like a good idea. As luck would have it, the radio station was hiring. It was actually the siege in Waco, Tx between the government and the Branch Davidian compound in 1993 that got him to thinking about faith. He opened a Bible to check out things he heard from that case. Instead of backing up his own disbelief, what he found during that time turned him to Christianity.

Not only did Keith struggle with his own faith, but he also struggled with MS. He couldn't get out of bed and couldn't even walk on some days. He wasn't one who you would expect to end up as station manager at a Christian radio station. Even so, having been a non-believer most of his life, Keith has been on both sides of the faith debate. This makes him well-versed in what makes the audience tick, both mentally and spiritually. He's been there. He has lived both sides, and even though he enjoys the message now, it was not always one that appealed to him. So, he knows what it takes to help others find the answers they seek in life. This is what helps him know what music to play, which groups to bring to his listeners, and what messages will reach out to the most people. In his position with the radio station, he shares prayer, music, and stories of conversion with his listeners. Whether they are playing Toby Mac, Matthew West, or For King and Country, you can be sure you will hear a message that is powerful, uplifting, and meant just for you.

This is the power of prayer. This is the power of Christian music. People from all over the world experience conversions and life-saving interventions simply by listening to a radio station. While the beat goes on, it's not the beat you'd expect. It's not just the beat of the music, but rather, it's the beat of the human heart... the human spirit. So take a listen to KMOC today. If you're not in the listening area, you can listen online at <http://tunein.com/radio/KMOC-895-s34097/>. Keep that radio on to uplift your day, and love others well to uplift theirs.

Teaching Respect And More

By Priscilla Hull

A couple of weeks ago I had the privilege of watching some amazing people teach a dozen or so 4-year-olds some basic facts about baseball/softball. Now, we all have to admit that teaching 4-year-olds to play organized sports is a bit like herding cats. The coach and the boys were excellent. I'm filled with admiration for these people because you also must know that keeping the interest of a 4-year-old beyond a nanosecond is a challenge especially when it is a warm Saturday morning and there are birds flying above, dandelions and buttercups to pick and parents and grandparents watching. Yet these three boys and their coach did just that.

It was clear to me, though, that they are teaching these kids more than baseball. They're teaching them to be responsible players. They are teaching them respect. They are teaching them to focus. I didn't hear a single one of them say, "Don't do this" or "Stop doing that". What I did hear was things like, "Keep your eye on the ball" or "Keep your glove low on the ground".

At the end of 45 minutes coach and the boys acknowledged each child and told them they'd look forward to next week. I know one little boy is looking forward to it.

These people know how to "Train up a child in the way he should go; and even when he is old he will not depart from it." (Proverbs 22:6) Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could all remember that in our interactions with the next generation?

Priscilla Hull is the Lay Leader of the First United Methodist Church in Claremont.

U.M. Army To Return To Claremont

CLAREMONT, NH--With the approach of summer the First United Methodist Church of Claremont is looking forward to the return of the U.M Army, that amazing group of young people who spent a week sprucing up the town with their rakes, shovels, hammer nails and paint brushes. Last year, they built two ramps for two families to help get a loved one out of the home with ease! They also painted and gardened and cleaned.

This year they are returning on July 17.

Since they can't sleep at the old stone building this year, the church has gone to the town and found other sites.

If you have work to be done, please contact Deb at the First United Methodist Church at 603-542-5783. The advisors to the group will be here for pre-site visits on June 18.

Energy Vampires at Work

Psychiatrist and author of Positive Energy, Dr. Judith Orloff, identifies 6 types of "energy vampires" and their antidotes:

The sob sister (or brother) loves to complain about their situation. At work, you'll have to set clear boundaries to keep the "poor me" stories to a minimum.

The drama queen (or king) makes mountains out of molehills. Again, you'll have to set limits and not get caught up in the drama.

The constant talker may be entertaining at first (or not), but you may have to interrupt this self-centered coworker to get back to your task.

The fixer upper wants your help with everything, from unjamming the copy machine to serving as a go-between in a contentious interoffice relationship. Offer solutions, but don't rescue the fixer-upper all the time.

The blamer makes negative comments and tries to make you feel guilty for not getting things just right. Orloff suggests visualizing yourself in a cocoon of white light. If that sounds too new-agey, just think of it as ignoring the comments whenever you can.

The go for the jugular fiend cuts you down with no consideration for your feelings. Don't drink the poison; try not to take the pointed barbs personally.

Clinical psychologist Dr. Sophie Henshaw suggests a two-pronged approach to dealing with energy vampires. First, assess your emotional capacity to see just how much of this person you can take. Second, assess how much of a threat the vampire is to you.

Crazy coworkers are not the only energy vampires at work. Some of your very own behaviors can suck the life out of you. Remembering everything on today's to-do list – without the actual list – consumes the mental energy you could use to, say, write that major report. In an article, "Top 10 Office Energy Drains," Forbes lists multi-tasking, technology, workplace noise, an uncomfortable environment, sitting still, clutter, boredom, and resentment as other vitality zappers in the workplace.

Fight fang and nail to avoid the draining situations you can control, and minimize your interaction with your office vampire. It'll be a treat once the project is complete.

Moody Park Marks 100th Anniversary With Special Events

CLAREMONT, NH--June 2016 marks an important anniversary for the City of Claremont and the Parks and Recreation Department. It was 100 years ago that William Moody donated a portion of his property to the residents of Claremont to be used as a free public park. Since then, Claremont residents and others from surrounding communities have enjoyed many hikes, picnics, bike rides, and times spent relaxing in the park. In 2013-2014, the selective timber harvest, as part of the City's forest management plan changed the landscape of Moody Park.

"We are going into the 3rd year after the timber harvest and new growth in the park has been prevalent," explained Mark Brislin, Director of Parks and Recreation. "Upgrades to existing trails and the addition of new trails have sparked a new excitement within the park and the view of Mount Ascutney from the top of Moody Park has been reclaimed," he added.

Throughout the month of June, the Parks and Recreation Department and other various groups within the community will be offering programs to help celebrate the 100-year anniversary and showcase the many uses of Moody Park.

Below is a list of programs that will be offered throughout the month of June. Please be sure to visit the department's website at www.claremontparks.com for up to date information or call the Parks and Recreation Department for more information at 542-7019.

Events begin on June 1-June 30. From dawn to dusk there will be a story walk. Meet at Shady Pines Loop (1/4 of a mile, on the right from main gate). This is a fun, self-guided, educational activity that places a children's story along a trail, connecting kids to literature in a natural, relaxed setting.

Wednesdays, June 15, 22, and 29 at 6:00 pm there will be group mountain bike rides sponsored by Claremont Cycle Depot. Meet at the front gate of Moody Park. All skill levels are welcomed. Enjoy the trails, explore, and learn new bike skills from friends.

Tuesdays, June 14, 21, and 28 at 6:00 pm, there will be group runs at Moody Park Sponsored by Tread Setters Running Group. Meet at the pavilion at the top of Moody Park. All running levels are welcomed. Enjoy the trails and explore the park in the company of friends, all while getting a good workout.

Saturday, June 18th, at 8:00 am, come out for a bird watching/walk with Naturalist, Wendy Ward. Meet at the front gate of Moody Park. Come and see what species of birds are living and thriving in Moody Park. This walk will explore some of the trails and habitats of Moody Park. Binoculars, bug spray, and good hiking shoes/boots are recommended.

June 25th at 9:00 am, come for fairy house building, led by Claremont Girl Scouts. Meet in the lower picnic area of Moody Park. Use your imagination to build a house fit for a fairy in the lower section of Moody Park. Natural materials will be provided, such as sticks, bark, dried flowers, seed pods, pine cones, shells, stones, etc. Feel free to also bring any natural materials from home.

June 25th at 1:00 pm is a look back in time at Moody Park, presented by Claremont Historical Society. Meet at the Claremont Savings Bank Community Center, Room B. Take a look back in time to 1916 and relive the history of Moody Park and the legacy that William Moody left to Claremont.

All of these events are free, with exception to the All In at Moody Park Mountain Bike Race.*

June Programs At The Fiske

An Evening with Robert Frost-Stephen Collins

Tuesday, June 14, 7:00 p.m.

An Evening of Frost is a unique, interactive performance that begins with a short biographical introduction into the poet's life. Robert Frost is greatly misunderstood. Certain people, some academics and politicians included, have tried to pigeonhole him, however the man is far more complicated than the surface indicates.

Stephen Collins is currently performing eight one-man shows. Met to rave reviews for over a decade, Collins' performances deliver not just the poetry and plays, but they bring poets and playwrights to life on the stage. The shows also convey an understanding of the impact and the reactions of the characters to their respective times, giving the audience not just a performance, but an experience.

As part of the performance, an open discussion of the following poems will include:

"A Tuft of Flowers"

"Mending Wall"

"Birches"

"After Apple Picking"

"Acquainted with the Night"

"Desert Places"

Collins is hoping that people will come having read these poems and willing to discuss them.

Copies of the poem may be picked up at the library or printed from online.

Along with "An Evening with Robert Frost", the library will also be hosting the traveling Robert Frost Art Show, The Road Not Taken, Artistic Interpretation of the Poetry of Robert Frost during the month of June and the exhibit will be available for viewing on the night of the program.

Finding Butterflies! With Jerry Schneider

Tuesday, June 28, 10:00 a.m.

Jerry Schneider will present a slide presentation of Eastern Butterflies. Audiences will learn the importance of leaving the screen and electronics behind, getting out in the fields, back roads and waterways, and investigating places where butterflies find food and lay their eggs.

In addition, we will discuss differences between butterflies and moths, where to find butterflies and how to attract butterflies to our gardens. We will learn interesting butterfly facts and behaviors-did you know that butterflies taste with their feet? Or that the Viceroy butterfly, looks like the Monarch and is protected because birds tend to avoid the poisonous and distasteful Monarch?

After the slide show, children will create their own butterfly tee shirts (heavy 100% cotton) using a combination of Rit fabric dye sprays, plants, and butterfly cut outs. Children may purchase heavy cotton shirts for $4.00, or bring their own. Sponsored by: the Friends of the Fiske Free Library; 542-7017.

oldest of five children born to Ervin and Anna (Dennison) May in Peterborough, NH, on May 31, 1915. Ray's father built a home on the NH/MA border in Winchendon, MA, so Ray could easily attend high school. Following graduation from Murdock HS, Ray became a door-to-door salesman for Raleigh and Fuller Brush products. At the outset of World War II, Ray enlisted in the Army and served in the European theater in several countries and fought in the Battle of the Bulge after which he was awarded a Purple Heart and a Bronze Star. At the end of the war, Ray returned to Winchendon, MA, where he married his sweetheart, Beatrice Cardin. Ray began his long career with Aubuchon Hardware in Winchendon, MA, and in 1957 became the manager of the Windsor, VT, store.

Ray was never a person who could sit still long. When not working in the hardware store, he was remodeling his home in Windsor or tending his garden at home.

Ray was also a voracious reader, and he and Bea enjoyed taking long trips when time permitted. He was a member of St. Francis Catholic Church and the Knights of Columbus. Ray was a man of few words but he was always available to listen and would offer advice when asked. He was loved for his quiet dedication to his family, friends, and God. In his later years he was asked to speak to Boy Scout troops about his first hand experiences during WW II and his recall of details of the war was remarkable, considering it was such a harrowing experience.

He leaves behind his three children, son, Jim (wife Karin) of Claremont, NH, daughter Gaila (husband David) Strawn of Escondido, CA, daughter Patricia May (wife Kathy Droll) of Long Beach, CA, and granddaughter, Elizabeth May of Fresno, CA, as well as his sister, Evelyn Spaulding of Baldwinville, MA, and many nieces and nephews.

Burial will be at the Veterans Cemetery in Winchendon, MA, at a later date.

He was a proud Air Force veteran of the Korean War. Upon returning to Claremont, he worked at Joy Manufacturing for over 30 years as a machinist.
