Demars To Run in 2018 Boston Marathon

CLAREMONT, NH--After training hard all summer, Claremont marathoner Michael Demars recently completed the Steamtown Marathon in 2 hours, 54 minutes, 45 seconds. Demars was disappointed with his time in the 2017 Boston Marathon, a time most runners would love to claim, of 3:01:12, 72 seconds off his personal target time.

"There were legitimate reasons why it didn't happen," Demars told the e-Ticker News' columnist Les St. Pierre in April. "I could have done it that day if I had made better decisions along the way. That is something I can take to the next one."

And the next Boston Marathon for Demars will be next year.

"I've applied for and been accepted into the 2018 Boston Marathon this coming April," he told the e-Ticker News last week.

On Friday, Stevens played Hillsboro-Deering; Stevens won 4-2. Stevens' Kayleigh Lee scored a little over a minute into the game, assisted by Jenna Pond. Hillsboro-Deering tied the game on a goal by Izzabella Warren. Audrey Puksta put the Cardinals ahead again, assisted by Kelsey Belisle. The only goal of the second half was scored by Sydney Miller assisted by Puksta.

This was the last home game for Stevens and before the game they honored the six seniors on the team: Kelsey Belisle, Raquel Madeja, Hillary Pellerin, Alexis Ford, Meghan Cutler and Kayleigh Lee.

Stevens travels to Conant on Tuesday.

Stevens Boys Soccer

The Cardinals won Tuesday, 5-0 over Mascenic.

"I was excited and nervous about this game," said Coach Jason Stone. "They have had some really close games with some of the top teams. But we responded well today. We played without one of our starting centerbacks, so some players had to adjust to new positions. Our intensity and speed of play was great today."

Cardinals Score Big Win Against Lakers, 28-19

The Stevens Cardinals and Inter-Lakes/Moultonborough Lakers met in a rematch of the last year's State Championship Game at Barnes Park on Friday night. This was also a very big game for both teams in determining whether or not there would be any postseason action for them. Stevens came in at 3-2 with a chance to punch their ticket to the playoffs, while the Lakers came in at 2-3 and needing a win to bolster their chances of making the postseason.

The Lakers would dent the scoreboard first, as Landan Keyser found a hole off the left side, broke several tackles, and raced 71 yards for a touchdown. The extra point kick was no good but the Lakers were out to a quick 6-0 lead in the first quarter. Stevens would answer that score putting together a 14 play, 72 yard touchdown drive that culminated in a second quarter, 2 yard touchdown run by Keaghan McAllister. McAllister added the conversion run and the Cardinals were up 8-6. Inter-Lakes/Moultonborough would grab the lead again a bit later in the quarter when Noah Robinson hit Jayden Lara on a 48 yard scoring strike. The extra point split the uprights to make it 13-8. Once again the Cardinals answered. Just before the half Quentin Bicknell could not find an open receiver and headed for the end zone, scoring from 10 yards out, vaulting over a Laker defender for the touchdown. The touchdown capped a 10 play, 67 yard drive. McAllister added the conversion and the halftime score had Stevens up 16-13.

Stevens would add to their lead in the third quarter on their second possession. Going with an extra pair of lineman, the Cardinal's Tucker Derosier, Brendan Bean, Aidan Cahill, Phillip Mason, Nick Stone, Hunter Durkee, and Isaiah Forrest opened some big holes and it took just 5 plays to cover the 61 yards. The drive was capped by a 20 yard touchdown run from Damon Roy. The conversion failed but Stevens was up 22-13. Stevens got a big interception from Keaghan McAllister mid-way through the final quarter, his second pick of the night, and he returned it to the Lakers 29 yard line. It took Stevens 8 plays but when Baylor Rozzell dived into end zone on a 7 yard touchdown run the Cardinals had a 28-13 lead. The score stayed that way following the failed conversion.

The Lakers would waste little time getting back in the game as they scored on their first play from scrimmage following the Stevens score. Robinson found Deante Miller open on the sideline and Miller deftly found a way through the Cardinal defenders for a 37 yard touchdown reception. Trying to make it a one possession game with time winding down the Lakers went for the two point conversion, however Derrick Stanhope swatted the pass to the ground and kept the Cardinals up by two scores at 28-19. Stevens would control the action the rest of the way, to record their first win this year in front of their home fans, who often outnumber the host team's fans when Stevens hits the road. The win ensures the Cardinals a spot in the upcoming Division III playoffs. Stevens will now be playing for a higher seed and an opening round home game.

McAllister had another big game as he rushed the ball 27 times for 142 yards and a touchdown to go with his 2 interceptions. Four Cardinal ball-carriers found the end zone. Baylor Rozzell had 83 yards on his 10 carries and a touchdown. Quentin Bicknell directed the Cardinal offense all night and picked up 27 yards on his 8 rushes, with a touchdown. He also completed 4 of his 7 pass attempts for 31 yards, and recorded a team high 7 tackles on defense with a fumble recovery. Damon Roy had 36 yards on his 4 carries and a touchdown. Stevens lineman paved the way for 333 yards on the ground on 56 rushes for an average of 6.5 per rush.

Stevens will travel to Fall Mountain this Saturday evening, October 21st, for a 7PM tilt with the Wildcats.

Inspiration

The Glory of the Garden

By Priscilla Hull

My mother was a wonderful gardener. She talked to her plants and their response was to grow and flourish! I've managed to keep some of her plants alive, but she has been gone 25 years and it gets more difficult. I have some of her grandmother's thyme still flourishing in her garden (my garden), I have a Christmas Cactus that was hers, but my greatest treasure is her bay plant which is close to 50 years old! For many years I carted it in and out every summer, then my son did; now it has taken up permanent residence in a room that is cool in the winter and comfortable in the summer.

She also collected poetry. One of her favorites is this written by an unknown writer;

"Oh Adam was a gardener and God who made him sees,
That half of every gardener's time is spent upon his knees.
Then when his work is finished, he can bow his head to pray,
For the glory of the garden, it does not pass away!"

As I walked this week, I thought of this poem. The gardens are fading. We begin now to pull up the non producing tomato plants, lettuce roots and such. Things like beets can stay in a little longer. We can plant bulbs that will produce tulips and daffodils and crocus. I looked at the hills surrounding me and the color was beautiful. Perhaps not as vibrant as they sometimes are, but each tree was raising its hands in praise to its Maker! Then I saw beyond the trees the sky which was so blue that you could barely believe it. I looked at the ground and there were the same leaves, red, yellow, brown just waiting to be taken into the depths of the earth and replenish all that comes from the earth.

The eternity of the world is expressed in each season of the year, but I think that as we watch the leaves die and fall to the ground, we are most aware of that eternal life. Nothing ends. There is always time to wait for a new beginning. As that first gardener, Adam, tilled the soil, maybe he didn't know what would come forth, but he relied on something beyond himself to make the wheat grow, to make the figs and olives ripen on the trees. Yes, he worked hard and he must have had a wonderful faith to know that his work would bring from the soil enough to sustain him and his family through the months when there was nothing growing.

As the year draws to a close, look at the good things that happened. Know that, like Adam, our work is not in vain. Know that through the cold and dark of winter, the frozen earth is still alive waiting for the first warm rays of sunshine to bring forth once again all that we need for our existence.

We have lost some precious souls in recent weeks. Remember that their death is a passage from one plain to another. They are still a part of our lives. They are still with us.

Truly, truly, I say to you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains by itself alone; but if it dies, it bears much fruit.
John 12:24

Silsby Library News

CHARLESTOWN, NH--Story hours in October will highlight cookies, World Food Day and of course scary stories, but not too scary. Parents or caregivers and their pre schoolers, toddlers and lap sitters are welcome to join us for stories and a simple craft on Tuesday mornings at 10:30. It is a great time to sign up for the 1000 Books Before Kindergarten program.

On Saturday, October 21, at 10:30 a.m., we invite children in grades 5-8 to get creative with our collection of old and broken toys. Teams of four will work together to take the old toys apart and reassemble them into weird and interesting "new" Franken-toys. Duct tape and glue guns will be involved. It is sure to be great fun.

Silsby Library will celebrate Halloween on Saturday, October 28, at 10:30 a.m. Weather permitting, we will have a story walk along the south end of Main Street along with several inside activities that will be ongoing, rain or shine. Remember to follow us on Facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/SilsbyLibrary> or check our web page <http://www.silsbyfree.org>. Interview Rules

Tomorrow's the big interview, huh? Have you done your homework and researched the company? Have you looked over what they have asked for in their advertisement? Are you planning to go to bed tonight to feel well rested? For a slam dunk interview, let's get back to the basics on the general rules of etiquette:

Do not bring your phone in!! At best turn it off. It is rude and at minimum, disruptive to the purpose of discussing the potential opportunity that is available to you!

Make eye contact. You may be nervous but looking at the floor is impolite while speaking to someone.. anyone. Employers want to know that you're confident in yourself.

Dress appropriately. Many people dress too casually for an interview. You should wear something appropriate that gives a first good impression.

LISTEN to the interviewer. We have 2 ears and 1 mouth for a reason. You should double the listening and keep your mouth shut when appropriate. Employers want good listeners.

Ask questions. Typically at the end of the interview you will be asked, "Do you have any questions?" No is the wrong answer. Asking questions shows that you are interested in the company and have done your homework.

No swearing. Does this need to be discussed?

No begging. You really want the job so let your skills and qualifications shine through.

Review: "Summer"

By Bernadette O'Leary

It's no secret that this journalist enjoys lower budget films. For me, they contain a heart and soul that just are often not found in the bigger "box office hits." "Summer" is one of those movies that one has to watch in order to find that heart and soul.

"Summer", featuring Robert Carlyle, is a story about a group of childhood friends facing the same challenges that we all face as we learn who we are and where we belong in this world. Facing their own individual struggles, and supporting one another through them all, they explore heartache, love, and loyalty as long as they can before one of them must take a different path, leaving the other two to face new challenges together.

This heartwarming tale of coming-of-age, sacrifice, and the life-long love found within relationships of the past will make you remember your own story of youth and will make you ponder your own adulthood and how you arrived at where you are today. While I thoroughly enjoyed this wonderful film, it must come with a disclaimer for nudity and language. I give it 4 out of 5 Crosses, losing only one to the nudity and language. The heart and soul of this film continue to move me, and it has earned a place on my shelf of favorites that I will watch again and again. It was well worth the two and a half year wait as I tried to find a copy, and it is currently available on DVD through Amazon. Get your copy today, break out the tissues, and watch it with someone you love.

- Always inspect all candy and other treats before allowing your children to eat.
- Be sure to pack a flashlight or glow sticks.
