

Claremont Confidential

By Les St.Pierre

Yankees Fan Extraordinaire

Close, but no cigar! Or, in this case, close but no champagne!

The New York Yankees came within one game of going into the 2017 World Series, but Saturday's 4-0 loss at Minute Maid Park in Houston to the hometown Astros spoiled any chance the visiting ball club from the Big Apple had of entertaining that thought.

Still, it was a good year for the Yankees, although they did finish behind their rival, the Boston Red Sox, by two full games. However, the New York club was able to go further in the playoffs from its wild card position than did the Red Sox. No one was more proud of that fact than was Claremont's Renee Davis.

Sure, there are Yankees fans mixed in among all the Red Sox fans here in Claremont and Davis, 51, perhaps, is the most avid of any of them. One would be hard pressed to find a more devoted Yankees fan. After all, who else would make the drive from Claremont, all alone, mind you, into NYC to take in a ball-game. Davis has made that trip not once or twice this season, but six times. Davis began her trips on Mother's Day when Derek Jeter was being honored and has gone continually on a monthly basis right into October. In fact, Davis took in a Yankees Astros playoff game just last week.

"What they did was amazing!" Davis declared while being interviewed recently. "I was blown away by the youth of the group and just how positive they've stayed. Despite all the negativity, they have stayed positive, and I don't think that's one person. It has been the whole team."

In spite of the Yankees' fine run this season, winning 91 games, Joe Girardi, the team's manager, may not return as he does not have a contract heading into the 2018 season. Girardi has been at the helm 10 seasons now and his current 910 regular season wins ranks sixth of all time for New York Yankees managers. Davis admits she does like Girardi as a manager, but her baseball savvy tells her the powers that be could go in another direction, as did the upper echelon in Boston firing John Farrell after winning two straight division titles but failing to get through the playoffs.

"I think he's really doing well," Davis reported as to what she thinks of Girardi. "My dad used to tell me it's easier to fire one person than it is to fire 27 people. In my eyes a manager can only suggest and give the players ideas. They can't physically make the plays they want to happen. But that's the way clubs are these days. They get rid of the manager when the players don't produce."

It was Davis's father, George Duplessis, who introduced the family to the sport of baseball from the streets of NYC. "My dad taught my mom baseball," Davis related mentioning her mom came from England. "He regretted it because she got so into it. She took it so seriously," Davis added, mentioning her mother's penchant for keeping box scores and tabulating hits and errors and all the other vital, and some not so vital, statistics. "She did it for years," Davis voiced.

Davis was born in Yonkers, giving her a natural pathway to becoming a New York fan. She came to Claremont in 1967 at the age of two and, as Davis put it, "the rest is history." Her father eventually became a Mets fan, despising the Dodgers for leaving New York, but Davis and her mom stayed loyal to the Yankees.

"My first game, and I remember it well," Davis quipped, "was a Yankees game with the Chicago White Sox. Oscar Gamble, an outfielder for Chicago, had this big Afro and he kept throwing balls up into the stands. I was hooked!"

Davis, who has worked at Hannaford's for the last 14 years, said her favorite player of all time is a tossup between Craig Nettles and Scott Brocius and admitted she also took to liking Andy Pettite as her favorite pitcher. As for this season's squad, catcher Gary Sanchez is her favorite.

It is only natural she has come under fire from Red Sox fans, but Davis always seems to weather the storm and has, over the years, found out who she can joke with and who she can avoid.

"I have to bite my tongue a lot," Davis pointed out. "Some times people will put brooms on the register," she said referring, of course, to an impending sweep. "I remind them of the time when their team was down three games to none to us and that it could happen again with us doing it to them. They say it will never happen again and I tell them any team is capable of doing it. The reality is I am passionate about baseball. All I know is when I am talking to a Red Sox fan and I can name more players on his team than he can, then don't give me a hard time.

Battling to the End...

I am a die-hard fan," Davis, a Stevens High 1984 graduate, concluded. "Just because I live here doesn't mean I have to root for the teams in this area. I can root for whoever I want."

For the record, Davis does not cheer for the New England Patriots. She is a New York Giants football fan.

Would you think otherwise?

Stevens Girls Soccer

Stevens played Conant on Tuesday; Stevens won 4-2. Audrey Puksta had two goals for the Cardinals and Kelsey Belisle and Sydney Miller each had a goal. Jenna Pond had two assists and Ellee Grenier had the one. Kaitlyn Chambers had a good game in goal.

Stevens ended the season with 10 wins and 6 losses.

Stevens Boys Soccer

The Stevens Cardinals won the Bernard Cup Monday night, defeating Fall Mountain, 2-0.

It was also Senior Night, when the team honors all of its Senior players.

The Stevens Cardinals traveled to Langdon to take on the Fall Mountain Wildcats and returned home with a 48-7 win. It was senior night for the Wildcats, and the fans for both teams were treated to an impressive fireworks show at the conclusion of the game.

The Cardinals wasted little time getting on the board. Behind some big runs from Keaghan McAllister Stevens was set up on a first and goal at the Fall Mountain 2 yard line where McAllister capped the drive with a 2 yard touchdown run. Derrick Stanhope added the conversion kick for a quick 7-0 lead which is the way the first quarter ended.

Early in the second quarter, McAllister would score again, this time from 1 yard out, setting up the score with some impressive runs. Stanhope added the kick and it was 14-0. Stevens would extend their lead to a bit later in the quarter when Baylor Rozzell fielded a punt at his own 36 yard line, got behind his wall of blockers and sprinted 64 yards to pay dirt. Stanhope added his third kick of the day and Stevens had a 21-0 half time lead.

Stevens would add to their lead on the opening kickoff of the second half as Keaghan McAllister caught the kickoff on the 27 yard line and raced 73 yards down the right sideline for his third touchdown of the night. The conversion kick was good and it was 28-0. Damon Roy scored on a 3 yard touchdown run later in the quarter and Joe Desilets would score on a 20 yard touchdown run before the quarter ended. Both kicks by Stanhope split the uprights and it was 42-0 Stevens as the teams headed to the fourth quarter.

Stevens and Fall Mountain would each score in the final quarter. Stevens made it 48-0 early in the fourth quarter when sophomore running back Matt Jones scored a touchdown, on a nice cutback run from 9 yards out. The conversion kick was no good but on the night Derrick Stanhope connected on 6 of his 7 attempts on the evening.

It was fitting that the final score of the Senior night contest would come on a 5 yard touchdown run by Chris Bashaw, the lone Wildcat senior, who was honored for his four years prior to the game. The conversion kick was good accounting for the final score of 48-7.

McAllister had another big night, as the sophomore rushed for 148 yards on 14 carries and the 2 touchdowns. He also had the kickoff return for a touchdown. Senior Alex DeVre ran for 63 yards on 8 carries, Joe Desilets chipped in with 40 yards on 4 carries and a touchdown, while freshman Alex Taylor, making his first varsity start, added 31 yards on the ground in his 2 carries.

Stevens improved to 5-2 and will host the undefeated Huskies from Monadnock Friday night, on the Cardinal's senior night. Game time is 7PM.

Manchester Derailed by Worcester, 2-0

MANCHESTER, NH--Charles Williams made 19 saves, but it wasn't enough as the Monarchs fell to the Worcester Railers, 2-0, Saturday night at SNHU Arena.

The Monarchs (2-2-0-1) outshot the Railers (2-0-0-0) 28-to-21, but dropped their second consecutive meeting between their new North Division rivals.

After two scoreless periods, the Railers broke the ice when Mike Cornell netted his 1st goal of the season at 5:27 of the third period. After receiving a pass from Kellen Jones, Cornell blasted a shot from the right point past Monarchs goaltender, Charles Williams, to give the Railers a 1-0 lead.

The put heavy pressure on Worcester for the remainder of the third period, but the Railers solidified their win when Ashton Rome scored an empty-net-goal, his 2nd tally of the season, at 19:01 of the third period, to put the Railers on top, 2-0.

The Monarchs return to action on Friday, Oct. 27 (7 p.m.) when they host the Greenville Swamp Rabbits at SNHU Arena.

Sign Up for Snowmobile Safety Classes

CONCORD, NH--Winter is almost here, and snowmobile education classes are underway across the state. To operate a snowmobile or off-highway recreational vehicle (OHRV) in

New Hampshire, any person age 12 or older must have either a valid motor vehicle driver's license or have successfully completed an approved OHRV/Snowmobile Safety Education class taught by volunteer instructors and staff trained by the NH Fish and Game Department. Additionally, all children under the age of 14 must be accompanied by a licensed adult when operating a snowmobile or OHRV, unless they are on property belonging to their parents, grandparents, or guardians.

Sign up soon if you or someone you know needs a class. There is no charge for traditional classes, which are completed in a single day. For a current class schedule, visit www.wildnh.com/ohrv/education.html. New classes are added as they become available.

Traditional classroom OHRV and Snowmobile Safety Education courses, taught by nearly 150 Fish and Game-certified volunteer instructors and Regional Coordinators, are available statewide at no charge and offer the preferred method of certification. Parents are welcomed and encouraged to attend.

As an alternative to the traditional courses, participants have the option of completing the safety training online for a fee of $29.50. "The online courses provide a convenient opportunity for students to obtain their NH Rider Certificate, at their own pace, while learning key safety information we find important for riding both OHRVs and snowmobiles," said Captain David Walsh, OHRV/Snowmobile Education and Law Enforcement Coordinator for NH Fish and Game. "The entire course can be taken on a smartphone, tablet, or computer and offers a fun approach to learning by using live-action video and interactive learning modules."

Many of the trained volunteer instructors are affiliated with one of the more than 100 snowmobile clubs in New Hampshire. "Joining a snowmobile club is a great way to learn about safe riding, help support local landowners, and help maintain trails for your own and others' enjoyment," Walsh said. For more information on how to become involved with a snowmobile club, visit www.nhsa.com.

In addition to safety education, this winter Fish and Game Conservation Officers will be out on the trails conducting patrols to detect and apprehend impaired snowmobile operators, enforce speed limits, deter unlawful off-trail riding, and detect machines with modified exhaust. These ongoing initiatives will help to keep the state's snowmobile trails open and safe for all outdoor enthusiasts during the upcoming season.

Inspiration

To Forgive

By Priscilla Hull

We're all familiar with the series of books named "Chicken Soup". I remember when the first one came out in 1993. Many now use them as reference for difficult life situations. The "Chicken Soup" series has grown and expanded in almost 25 years to include topics such as the Teenage Soul, The Pets Soul and even into pet foods!

In this series of books edited by Jack Canfield and Mark Hansen, we see tidbits of the lives of strangers that are suppose to give us some help for living. I'm guessing every phase of life is covered, from the very young to the very old; from wealthy to impoverished; from healthy to diseased and many more between. They might be used in a counseling session or a classroom or a sermon or a private conversation. They do appeal to many people all around the world. I read that there are 250 or more books in print!

We seem to need things like "Chicken Soup" to help us on our life path these days. We live very public lives. By that I mean that we seek public approval and support for much of our life situation. It is a world today where we depend on each other for our life situations.

That being said, why is it that we find it so difficult to forgive? There comes a time when a friend or stranger, local or afar, will say or do something that we find offensive. The common solution seems to be, then, to turn away from the person who has offended, sometimes to the point where you never speak again. Is this the way to make the world a better place to live? Of course not!

There is so much going on in the world today that seems to foster anger and not so much that fosters kindness.

We want our world to be better. We want to know that we can turn to a friend and know that they'll be there when we need them. As we refuse to forgive, we lose a part of a system which is meant to help us.

Forgiving does not mean that we accept a wrong that someone has done to us. Forgiving means that our care for that person goes deep. It means that we can acknowledge a mistake has been made and we can move on with life. We should be able to help the person realize the hurt or we can't move beyond. What I'm saying is that forgiving is not a one sided street. In forgiving someone the mistake has to be acknowledged by both parties. Then we can work on the process of forgiving and acceptance and hopefully restoring a friendship.

How can we expect the world to grow in kindness unless we, ourselves, can forgive on our own level?

It isn't easy to forgive. It is important!

You must put away every kind of bitterness, anger, wrath, quarreling, and evil, slanderous talk. Instead, be kind to one another, compassionate, forgiving one another, just as God in Christ also forgave you.

Ephesians 4:31-32

Sunapee Halloween 2017 and Candy Drive

SUNAPEE, NH--Once again this year, there will be a candy drive to support the residents of Central Street who generously provide a safe and fun location for Sunapee families to enjoy the Halloween tradition. The Sunapee Police Department is sponsoring the candy drive this year. Please help us support our Central Street homeowners by donating wrapped and/or packaged candy. Candy donations can be dropped off at the Sunapee Police Department and/or at the Sunapee Town Hall before October 30th as the police department plans to deliver all donations on the 30th.

Halloween in Sunapee will be celebrated on Tuesday, October 31st, between the hours of 5:30 and 8:00 p.m. Central Street will be closed to all vehicular traffic during that time to provide a safe location for trick or treating.

Newport Historical Society to Present Program on Quilts

NEWPORT, NH--The Newport Historical Society will present "New England Quilts and Their Stories", a New Hampshire Humanities program. Pamela Weeks, the Curator of the

New Hampshire Quilt Museum, in Lowell, MA, will be the speaker.

Quilts tell stories, and quilt history is full of myths and misinformation as well as heart-warming tales of service and tradition. Quilting is not just an American art; nearly every world culture that has cold weather uses quilted textiles! Weeks weaves world history, women's history, industrial history and just plain wonderful stories into her presentation. Participants are invited to bring one quilt for identification and/or story sharing. The Historical Society will also display the Newport American Bicentennial Quilt, which has not been on view for almost 50 years.

This program will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 24, in Newport's Richards Free Library ballroom, 58 N. Main Street, from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m. After this program, from 8:00 to 9:00 p.m., the Library Arts Center, adjoining the Library, will open their doors to allow attendees to view the Soo-nippi Quilter's Guild's annual quilt show, "Fall into Quilts," if desired.

This program is free, open to the public, and the ballroom is handicapped accessible. Light refreshments will be served in the Ballroom.

"Haunted Lighthouses of New England" at the Fiske

CLAREMONT, NH--A program on Haunted Lighthouses Of New England will be presented by Jeremy D'Entremont at the Fiske Free Library on Monday, October 23, at 7:00 p.m.

Lighthouses are picturesque icons that remind us of our rich maritime history, but they also have a dark side. Lighthouses and ghost stories often seem to go hand in hand, as confirmed by the many horror stories and movies that have utilized lighthouses as their settings. This presentation will focus on macabre tales of New England's coastal beacons, including the lovelorn spirit known as Ernie at Connecticut's New London Ledge Light and the piano playing ghost of Maine's Seguin Island Light. Also included will be accounts of strange happenings at America's oldest light station, Boston Light, and at Portsmouth Harbor Light in New Hampshire.

D'Entremont has personally taken part in many lighthouse investigations by paranormal research groups. He calls himself an "open-minded skeptic," and he'll share some of his personal experiences. He has appeared on the Syfy Channel's popular Ghost Hunters program. He has also appeared on the History Channel, Travel Channel, Public Television, and National Public Radio speaking about lighthouse history.

D'Entremont is considered a leading expert on New England's historic lighthouses. He is the author of more than 15 books, including The Lighthouse Handbook: New England, Great Shipwrecks of the Maine Coast, and Ocean-Born Mary: The Truth Behind a New Hampshire Legend. He's the historian for the American Lighthouse Foundation and founder of Friends of Portsmouth Harbor Lighthouses. His website is www.newenglandlighthouses.net.

Salary Increase Negotiations

Thinking about asking for a pay increase at work? Here are some negotiation mistakes that employees make when asking for a raise. Peoples' work situations are different but these are good rules to follow to help aid in your discussions.

Bad timing- Don't make your request after you've made a major mistake, such as losing a client or bungling a manager's travel arrangements. Making a raise request during budget cuts won't get you very far.

Requesting a raise via email- You can request a meeting by email but it is best to have salary discussions face to face. You can better judge body language and adapt your presentation to the reactions you experience.

Citing personal reasons- Asking for a raise because of medical bills is not a compelling reason for your boss to give you an increase. While he/she may be sympathetic, your compensation is based on your value to the company and not the stack of bill on your dining room table.

Throwing co-workers under the bus- Whether someone told you their salary or another is not pulling their own weight, now is not the time to bring it up.

Acting entitled- Years at the company or the fact that you have a family does not give you a claim to a pay raise.

Threatening- If you issue an ultimatum such as “If I don't get a raise I will walk”, you may find yourself walking to the unemployment office.

Stating a specific number- If push comes to shove, state a range, preferably in percentages rather than dollars. Give your supervisor some wiggle room.

Holding a grudge- If you are turned down, continue to do your best work. Ask your supervisor what steps you can take to warrant a pay increase.

Review: Revolution Cantina, Claremont, NH

By Bernadette O'Leary

I recently had a chance to spend some time in Claremont, NH, the birthplace and home of e-Ticker News of Claremont. While there, I decided to check out the local establishments. One such place was a fun little restaurant with bar called Revolution Cantina.

The atmosphere in Revolution Cantina made me feel like I had stepped into Mardi Gras with a "Day of the Dead" theme throughout. The servers were absolutely fantastic and friendly, and the food was amazing. While there, I visited with other patrons and truly had a great time. In looking around I could see that the whole place was buzzing with excitement, and the reason why was easy to see. The very air itself within Revolution Cantina inspired fun, laughter, and merriment. Of all the many places I went to in Claremont, Revolution Cantina was by far the best and most enjoyable.

If you happen to find yourself in Claremont, NH, and if you get the chance, check out Revolution Cantina for yourself. And be sure to try their Brownie Sundae. It's incredible!

Frank Wadleigh, 90

Frank Wadleigh, 90, passed away on October 21st, 2017, at the Village of Cedar Hill surrounded by his family.

He was born on November 17, 1926, in Claremont, NH; the son of Frank E. and Ruth (Perry) Wadleigh. He spent his entire life in Claremont; his last year was at Cedar Hill in Windsor, VT.

Frank worked in the family market, Wadleigh's Market, for many years. He also worked at Howe Motors for 25 years. He was an avid skier and had a season's pass at Sunapee until he was 80. Summers were spent at their camp on Lake Ossipee where he enjoyed many walks, family gatherings, and time spent with the grandchildren on boat rides around the lake.

Frank was predeceased by his wife of 68 years, Jean; his parents; a brother, Malcolm Wadleigh; and a sister, Doris Nelson.

He is survived by his daughters Andrea (Gary) Burke of Brownsville, and Susan Matteson of Windsor, VT, five grandchildren: Kirk Lantas, Brent Lantas, Katie Willard, Emily Matteson-Weld, and Molly Matteson, as well as eight great-grandchildren: Kori Massucci, Lane Lantas, Jack and Clare Willard, Alden and Nolan Weld, and Matteson and Hannah Tenney, a sister-in-law, Ramona Wadleigh, and several nieces and nephews. The family wishes to thank Cedar Hill and DHMC for their compassionate care. The family requests that you share a kindness in his memory with someone in need.

Services will be held on Wednesday, October 25th, at Stringer Funeral Home in Claremont. Calling hours will be held at 10:00 with a celebration of his life at 11:00. Burial at the Union Cemetery will follow the service.

James C. Marsh, 70

James C. Marsh, 70, of River Street in Charlestown, NH, died Sunday (October 15, 2017) at his home following a period of failing health.

He was born in Hartland, VT, on December 12, 1946, the son of Clyde and Edith (Stevens) Marsh and had been a longtime area resident. He was a veteran of the US Air Force. James had been employed by Granite State Plastics in Manchester, NH, American Brush in Claremont, NH and Whelen Mfg. in Charlestown, NH. Recently he enjoyed playing the guitar, going for drives in the car and watching Fox News. In earlier years he also enjoyed fishing, running and hiking. James was also a licensed minister.

Members of his family include his fiancé, Verna "Pixie" Perron, Charlestown, NH; four sons, James Marsh II and his companion, Shannon O'Connor, Newport, NH; Joshua Marsh and his wife, Alycia, Wilmington, DE; Michael Marsh and his fiancé, Rene Bailey, Newport, NH; Joseph Marsh and his wife, Gina, UT; eight grandchildren, Michaela Marsh, Oliver Marsh, Wren Marsh, Darwin Marsh, Misty Marsh, Eli Marsh, August Marsh, Wesley Marsh, two brothers, Clyde Marsh, Croydon, NH; Richard Marsh, Charlestown, NH; a sister, Pat Abbott and several nieces and nephews.

He was predeceased by a son, Mark Marsh, a brother, Paul Marsh and two sisters Linda Marsh and Lucille Marsh.

Funeral services were held on Friday (Oct. 20) at the Roy Funeral Home, 93 Sullivan Street, Claremont, NH with David Ackerman, officiating. Interment with military honors fol-

Cheryl L. Bowne-Pickering

Cheryl Lynn Bowne-Pickering, of 102 Chestnut Street in Claremont, NH, was welcomed into the loving arms of her Savior and Lord, Jesus Christ, on October 17, 2017. Though she several times said she “wasn’t quite ready to meet Him”, she knew that He was in control of that and not her. She had suffered many setbacks to her health since being admitted to Valley Regional Hospital on September 5, 2017. She was born on April 22, 1957, at New London Hospital in New London, NH, and was 60 years young. She graduated from Kearsarge Regional in 1975.

Cheryl loved creating things from cloth and her sewing machine. She was extremely talented at that, and shared her love for children by crafting body puppets, costumes such as apples and pumpkins for Wellwood Orchards, upholstering for family and friends and occasionally hiring out for clothing repairs. For a time during the 90’s she owned and operated “Specialty Stitches” from her home on Chestnut Street. That endeavor saw her making medieval costumes for individuals enjoying that sort of thing, as well as the various things mentioned above. She was able to design and create from start to finish almost anything a person could describe.

She worked in Human Services for Sullivan County Rehabilitation Services, and had a unique manner of reaching some folks with special needs who frightened other staff. She also worked at Ellen’s Interiors as a seamstress, as a cashier at Texaco in Claremont, and as Office Manager at Don Bowne Construction in Concord, NH.

Coming to know Jesus as her Lord in October of 2000, she attended several churches in the area.

Cheryl is survived by her husband of 17 years, (and friend and companion of many more) Michael Pickering, her sister Barbara Bowne, also of Claremont. She has a brother, Don Bowne, her nephew DJ of CT, and his mom, Susie Bowne of Gilmanton Iron Works. Michael’s siblings, Elizabeth and her husband

Gordon of Wilbraham, MA, Steve Pickering of Claremont, Marianne of Freetown, MA and Phil and his wife, Sharon of New Bedford, MA. Cheryl is also survived by many nieces and nephews, great nieces and nephews, on Mike’s side of the family.

She was predeceased by her dad, Everett Francis Bowne, and her mom, Shirley (Worth) Bowne.

At Cheryl’s request, there will be no calling hours.

Jean D. Lear, 84

Jean Davis Lear, 84, died on October 16, 2017, at Valley Regional Hospital.

She was the only child born to Wendell and Marjorie (Thompson) Davis. Jean graduated from Cony High School in Augusta, ME in 1950 and from the University of New Hampshire with a Bachelor of Science Degree in 1954.

On September 4, 1954, she married Robert C. Lear in Readfield Depot, ME. While her husband was serving in the US Air Force during the mid-1960’s, Jean was the Family Service Coordinator at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, TX, helping military family members adjust to sometimes drastic life changes. After relocating to Claremont in 1968, she worked as Branch Secretary for the General Adjustment Bureau in Claremont for 20 years. Jean volunteered as a tutor for the Adult Learning Program in Claremont for many years and served as a trustee for the Fiske Free Library from 1997 to 2004 and as treasurer for the Friends of Fiske Free Library from 2004 to 2014.

Jean is survived by her husband of 63 years, Robert; her two sons, Richard and Thomas and five grandchildren, Charles E. Lear II, Courtney (Eric) Samuel, Caroline Lear, Cathleen Lear and Christina Lear.

She was predeceased by her parents and half-sister, Nancy (Jon) Bottiglieri.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Friends of the Fiske Free Library, 108 Broad Street, Claremont, NH 03743.

Kurt E. Beek, 51

Kurt Eric Beek, 51, passed away unexpectedly on Friday, October 13, 2017.

Kurt was born July 14, 1966 in Utica, NY. He grew up in New Hartford, NY. Upon graduating from New Hartford High School, he attended Mohawk Valley Community College for two years and went on to receive his Bachelor’s degree at Rochester Institute of Technology. He worked in Syracuse for several years as a Civil Engineer and during that time met the love of his life Patricia (Donahue) Beek of Liverpool, NY. They were married in Syracuse on February 26, 2000. They then moved to Grantham, NH, as Kurt loved the ‘Live Free or Die’ state. They were blessed with two beautiful daughters. He worked as a Project Manager for the City of Claremont for the past 13 years.

Kurt enjoyed the outdoors and shared his love with his wife, daughters and beloved dog Bova. They hiked, biked and explored just about every weekend regardless of rain, heat, or snow. His favorite place of all was Cape Cod. He visited there often with his mom, dad, sister and grandparents while growing up. Nickerson State Park was a favorite camping place for the whole family. In later years, Kurt’s parents retired to the Cape and it became a frequent place to visit from then on. It shall forever be his resting place.

Kurt leaves behind his wife, Patricia, daughters Quinn and Rylee; his parents, Bruno and Elizabeth Beek of Centerville, MA; his sister and brother in law, Karin and Richard Howlett, nieces Elizabeth and Sydney and nephew Harrison of Clinton, NY; mother and father in law Hank and Louise Donahue of Liverpool, NY; brother in law and wife, Gary and Maryestel, niece and nephew Mya and Liam of Incheon, S. Korea; and sister in law Sue Donahue, nieces and nephew, Sarah, DJ and Christina, of Liverpool, NY.

A memorial service was held on Saturday.

Kurt had a love for pelicans, so the family suggests donations be made to Pelican Harbor <http://pelicanharbor.org/donate/> or by check to Pelican Harbor Seabird Station, 1279 NE 79th St. Causeway, Miami FL 33138.

Pelican Harbor will dedicate their next brown pelican release in his memory.
